B20 Cricket - the fun and fast way to play

B20 Cricket is a brand new fast, fun and flexible cricket product from Middlesex Cricket. Games are 20 balls per innings, which means it is great for school lunchtimes and evening leagues, and in longer sessions lots of games can be played to make sure everyone gets involved.

While the rules of B20 cricket will be familiar – if you're out you're out, the team with the most runs wins – there are adaptations that keep it fast moving and accessible (rules overview attached).

B20 is Middlesex Cricket's flagship format for mass participation, providing playing opportunities for Primary and Secondary schools, beginners and pros, cricket clubs and parks.

The game can be played with a hardball or softball depending on the needs of the players and environment – beginners in a primary school might play with plastic kit and tennis ball in a playground, while a group of mums and dads coming back into the game at a cricket club might play in full pads on an AstroTurf strip.

Fully supported with equipment packages, digital scoring, leadership training and online league management system, B20 is the best way to introduce and engage more people to play more cricket in Middlesex!
